Concepts for People Administration

แนวคิดการบริหารคน

1.1 Introduction

People administration concept, in this context, refers to the processes of managing all personnel or human resources in a school, whether they are teachers, lecturers, educational personnel, or other related employees, so that these personnel can work efficiently, produce the highest productivity, and achieve the goals of the school, which is to develop the quality of education for students. In this first part, the essence of three main people administration concepts will be presented: (1) the concept of Participative management, (2) the concept of conflict management, and (3) the concept of human resource competency management, with details as follows:

1.2 Participative Management Concept

The concept of participative management is popular and is used as an advantage in the competitive business path, emphasizing the goal of having a shared commitment between executives and subordinates to work towards the organization's goals.

In this part of the concept of participative management, there are three important points that should be studied: the meaning of participative
