PREFACE

Mae Fah Luang University places great importance on the Chinese language and aims to provide all students with the opportunity to learn and acquire fundamental Chinese language skills. As a result, the course 2408101 Chinese 1 has been offered as one of the compulsory subjects under the General Education program for non-Chinese major students.

Initially, Chinese 1 (2408101) was introduced in 2009 under the course code 1007101. It has since undergone continuous development, eventually evolving into the current version, Chinese 1 (2408101), in 2020. The course adopts a practical approach, focusing on the four essential skills: reading, writing, speaking, and listening. The first three skills are emphasized through the textbook, while listening skills are developed through the online platform MFU Digital Learning.

Chinese 1 (2408101) is designed to be beneficial not only for non-Chinese major students at Mae Fah Luang University but also for anyone interested in acquiring basic Chinese communication skills.
